

Is Your Data Safe in the Event of a Disaster?

In the event of a disaster at or within your facility, have you adequately ensured that critical data is backed up?

Can you accurately and efficiently recover your patient and operating data in a timely fashion?

Do you know who has access to your data backups?

Are you still backing up to tape?

Disaster Recovery: DATA REPLICATION SERVICES

Introduction

As your hospital's operating information, clinical systems, and patient records are increasingly digitized, the need for proper disaster preparedness is paramount. In the event of a disaster or system loss, you must be able to accurately and effectively recover system data in a timely fashion. Yet many healthcare organizations still rely on antiquated, unreliable, and unsecured methods of data backup methods that can leave them vulnerable in times of crisis.

Phoenix Health Systems can safeguard your data and provide you with the knowledge that your business-critical information is accessible and accurate with our digital data replication services. Using either of our Leveraged Service Centers near Dallas, Texas or Honolulu, Hawaii, we can replicate and secure your backup data and provide quick access to that information should any need arise.
